

Phil Bassindale

Philip Bassindale is a young caller with an abundant supply of energy, enthusiasm and dances to teach. He will ensure everyone has a great time, from the novice to the experienced dancer.

Phil used to dance with a morris dancing team in London before getting in contact with the Bristol Morris Men, when he moved to the city. He can be found regularly 'calling' on the folk circuit..... dancingor in the pub.

Make sure you save a bit of energy for this evening's ceilidh at Sir Harry Smith Community College.
